To sum up all, the time is short; we are strangers; we must succumb—unless we get together on August 1st, Veterans' Day at Didsbury.

Veterans' Day Here August 1st.

Arrangements were completed on Friday, for the big Veterans' Day and picnic to be held at Didsbury, on Friday, August 1st. A meeting was held of representatives of different organizations on Friday night to appoint committees and make other arrangements to give the boys a real good old-fashioned picnic at which baseball, football, and a good programme of other sports will be run off. It is also hoped that the Salvation Army band can be secured for the day. The Women's Institute will provide a banquet for the returned boys in the late afternoon and speakers will be provided for the occasion. Everything connected with the affairs will be absolutely free to the veterans, their wives and children, including dinner which will be served at four o'clock. Admission to the meal for others will be 35c. for adults and 25c. for children under 12. Dance in the evening $1 per couple.

Rev. Mr. Macgregor was acting chairman, and Mr. H. E. Osmond acting Secretary for the evening.

The permanent officers and committees were then appointed as follows:

Chairman, Rev. D. Macgregor. Sec.-Treas.—E. E. Freeman. Finance Committee—Mr. W. F. Sick and the chairman of each committee, first names mentioned.

Grounds Committee—N. Clarke, J. V. Berscht, Will McCoy, Clint Reiber.

General Sports Committee—J. A. McGhee, T. Thompson, Geo. Madden, W. O. Zimmerman, J. V. Berscht, J. Reed, E. E. Freeman.

Advt. and Printing Committee—H. E. Osmond, J. L. Brown, J. V. Berscht.

The Women's Institute will take up the matter of making and supplying small badges for the returned men to wear on that day.

Now everybody get to work and make this day one to be remembered by the boys who went through so much for us. Help them to forget the horrors of war.

Curiosity allures the wise; vanity the foolish; and pleasure both; therefore—boost Veterans' Day at Didsbury, August 1st.

Peace Day in Didsbury

Peace Day was celebrated in a quiet way in Didsbury on Friday. Those who did not go to the city for the celebration were entertained at a concert by the Salvation Army band in the Park on Railway Avenue. There was a big crowd out to hear them give a splendid programme of old time pieces which everyone greatly enjoyed. After the concert a large number motored to Olds to take in the sports held there and on their return all pronounced the day a success in that town.

Peace Day in Calgary

Impressive services were held at the Armory to celebrate the consummation of world peace. In a spirit of thankfulness and reverence more than four thousand people gathered together to give thanks at the Armory on Saturday morning. Simplicity, dignity, and a profound sense of the closing of a great and tragic chapter in the history of Canada and the beginning of a new task characterized the service. Its memory will remain as a source of inspiration to the people of Calgary in the days of reconstruction to come. In the name of Canada's dead, citizens consecrated themselves anew to the creation of a nation worthy of its inheritance.

The dedicating of the colors of the 10th, 31st and 50th Battalions simultaneously at the close of the service in the armories, and the depositing of the colors of the 10th in Knox Church, and of the 31st in the Pro-Cathedral at noon were impressive and moving ceremonies.

The special music at the Armories was particularly fine, and the orchestra under M. S. Joiner and the massed choirs providing a program aptly selected and magnificently rendered.

Great Pageant in London on Peace Day.

Land, sea and air forces of the British Empire and the allies marched in Saturday's victory parade to mark the return of peace. Several million persons watched the spectacle the reception growing as each new excitement stirred their emotion. When British contingents came in sight the applause became a steady roar. The patriotic fervor had its climax in the great demonstration along Pall Mall and about the pavilion before Buckingham Palace, where King George, Queen Mary, Premier Lloyd George, the cabinet ministers and diplomats, reviewed the parade. London has not seen such a celebration since the

At the little stream she paused. A single log was the only bridge, and although the water was not deep it ran swiftly, and still with the coldness of its glacier-source. She ventured along the log, but near the centre she was seized with an acute sense of her temerity. Perhaps she had been foolish in attempting this passage without the aid of a stick. A stick, which could be shoved against the gravel below that blue water, would have been a very practical aid. Suddenly, the waverings of the mind were transmuted to the body. She felt an impetuous desire to fall upstream, which she resisted so successfully that she promptly fell down stream. The water was deeper than it looked, and colder than it looked, and when she scrambled up the farther bank she was a very wet young woman indeed. She was conscious of a deep annoyance toward young Elden. A fine bridge, that! She would tell him—but this thought died at its birth with the consciousness that Elden would be amused over the incident, and would be at little pains to disguise his merriment. And then she laughed and ran along up the road.

The grips were duly found, and Irene congratulated herself that she and her father were in the habit of travelling with equipment for over-night. She had even a spare skirt along, with which she was able to disguise her mishap at the stream, although she took the precaution not to make the change until she was safe back over the narrow bridge. And this time she used a stick. Arrived at the house, she deftly wrapped a bandage about her father's injury, and set to work at the preparation of supper—a task not strange to her, as her mother considered it correct that her daughter should have a working knowledge of kitchen affairs. Her equipment was meagre, and she spent more time scouring than cooking, but her heart beat high with the spirit of adventure.

Once during the evening she took a glance into the other room. It was even less inviting than Dave's, with walls bare of any adornment save dirty garments that hung from nails driven in the logs. On the rude bed lay an old man; she could see only part of his face; a grey moustache drooping over an open mouth, and a florid cheek turned to the glow of the setting sun. On a chair beside the bed sat a bottle, and the room reeked with the smell of breath charged with alcohol. She gently closed the door, and busied herself through the long evening with reforms in the kitchen, and with little ministrations designed to relieve the sufferings of her father.

The sun sank behind the Rockies, and a darkness, soft and mystical and silent, stole up the valley, hushing even the noiseless day. Presently the glow of the rising moon burst in ruddy effulgence over the foothills to the east, first with the effect of fire upon their crests, and then as a great, slowly-whitening ball soaring high into the fathomless heaven. The girl stood framed in the open window, and the moonlight painted her face to the purest ivory, and toyed with the rich brown fastness of her hair, and gleamed from a single ornament at her throat. And she thought of the young horseman galloping to town; homeward journey, and the eerie depths of the valley communicated to her a fantastic admiration for his skill and bravery. She was under the spell. She was in a new world, where were manhood, and silence, and the realities of being; and moonlight, and great gulfs of shadow between the hills, and large, friendly stars, and soft breezes pushing this way and that without definite direction and strange, quiet noises from out of the depths, and the incense of the evergreens, and a young horseman galloping into the night. And conventions had been swept away, and it was correct to live, and to live!

CHAPTER II.

The first flush of dawn was mellowing the eastern sky when the girl was awakened from uneasy sleep by sounds in the yard in front of the ranch house. She had spent most of the night by her father's side, and although he had at last prevailed upon her to seek some rest for herself, she had done so under protest and without undressing. Now, after the first dazed moment of returning consciousness, she was on her feet and through the door.

The stars were still shining brightly through the cold air. In the faint light she could distinguish a team and wagon, and men unheeding. She approached, and in a voice that sounded strangely distant in the vastness of the calm night, called, "Is that you, Dave?"

And in a moment she wondered how she had dared call him Dave. But she soon had other cause for wonder, for the boy replied from near beside her, in that tone of friendly confidence which springs so spontaneously in the darkness, "Yes, Reenie, and the doctor, too. We'll have Mr. Hardy fixed up in no time. How did he stand the night?"

How dared he call her Reenie? A flush of resentment rose in her breast only to be submerged in the sudden remembrance that she had first called him Dave. That surely gave him the right to address her as he had done. But with this thought came recognition of the curious fact that Dave had not presumed upon her frankness; that it was not by her word that he would attempt to justify his. Indeed, she was convinced that he would have called her Reenie, anyway—just as she had called him Dave, without premeditation or intention. Then she remembered she was in the ranch country, in the foothills, where the conventions—the conventions she hated—had not yet become rooted, and where the souls of men and women stood bare in the clear light of frank acceptance of the fact. It would be idle—dangerous—to trifle with this boy by any attempt at concealment or deception. And what were conventions but a recognized formula of concealment and deception?

She could see his form now, as he led the horses toward the corral. How straight he was, and how bravely his footsteps fell on the hard earth! The poetry of his motion reached her through the darkness. She heard the harness jingle as the horses rubbed between the posts of the corral gate.

"He's a wonderful boy," said the doctor, of whose presence she had been unconscious. "Cat's eyes. Full gallop through the dark; side hills, mountain streams, up and down; Break-neck. Well, here we are." The doctor breathed deeply, as though this last fact were one to occasion some wonderment. "Your brother tells me you have an injured man here; accident; stranger, I believe? Well, shall we go in?"

Brother! But why should she explain? Dave hadn't bothered. Why hadn't he? He had told about the stranger; why had he not told about

Heart Palpitated Could Count Every Beat

When the heart begins to palpitate it will beat fast for several seconds, then slow, then start to flutter, and a feeling of utter depression will come over your whole system, accompanied by weak, fainting and dizzy spells.

When the heart gets into this condition, you become weak, worn and miserable, and are unable to attend to either social, business or household duties.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will give prompt and permanent relief to all sufferers from any heart weakness or nerve derangements.

Mrs. Walter Greives, Apsley, Ont., writes: "I had been run down, and doctors told me I was anaemic, but did not help me with their medicines. I could not sleep nights, my heart palpitated so, and I could count every beat."

I used to have such dizzy spells I would have to go to bed. I was not able to do any work for eight months. A cousin of mine had taken Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and told me what they had done for her. I took eight boxes of them, and now I am able to help every day with the work. I am so thankful to tell others what they have done for me, so that they may try this great and wonderful remedy. I hope this may prove good to someone who is suffering the way I did."

both strangers? Why had he ignored her altogether? This time came another flush, born of that keen womanly intuition which understands.

With a commonplace she led the doctor into the house and to the bedside of her father. She was struck by the change in attitude of the visiting physician when he learned that his patient was of his own profession. It was like the meeting of brothers in a secret order. There was an exchange of technical terms that might have served as password or sign into some fine fraternity, and the setting of the limb was accompanied by a running fire of professional comment as effective upon the nerves of the sufferer as an opiate.

When the operation was completed the girl turned her attention to the kitchen, where she found Dave, sweating in vicarious suffering. He had helped to draw the limb into place, and it had been his first close contact with human pain. It was different from branding calves, and he had slipped out of the room as soon as possible. The morning sun was now pouring through the window, and the distraught look on the boy's face touched her even more than the frankness of the words spoken in the darkness. She suddenly remembered that he had been up all night—for her. She would not deceive herself with the thought that it was for her father's sake Dave had galloped to town, found a doctor, secured a fresh team and driven back along the little-used foothill trails. She recalled the doctor's terse description of that journey. No doubt Dave would have done it all for her father had her father been there alone, but as things were she had a deep conviction that he had done it for her. And it was with a greater effort than seemed reasonable that she laid her fingers on his arm and said, "Thank you, Dave."

"What for?" he asked, and she could not doubt the genuineness of his question.

"Why, for bringing the doctor, and all that. Driving all night on those awful roads. We fell off them in daylight. I am sure I can't—Father won't be able to—"

"Oh, shucks," he interrupted, with a manner which, on the previous afternoon, she would have called rudeness. "That's nothin'. But say, I brought home some grub. The chuck here was pretty tame; guess you found that out last night." He looked about the room, and she knew that he was taking note of her house-cleaning, but he made no remark on the subject.

"Well, let's get breakfast," she said, after a moment's pause, and for lack of other conversation. "You must be hungry."

Dave's purchases had been liberal. They included fresh meat and vegetables, canned goods, coffee, rice and raisins. He laid the last three items on the table with a great dissembling of indifference, for he was immensely proud of them. They were unwelcome items on the Elden bill of fare; he had bought them especially for her. From somewhere the knowledge had been borne in upon him that city people frequently drink coffee for breakfast, and the rice and raisins were an inspiration quite his own. He would see what she could do with them. But she busied herself at the breakfast without a thought of the epoch-marking nature of these purchases.

"Do you milk?" she asked, presently.

"Milk what?" he demanded, pausing with stove-lid and lifter raised in his hand, in the half-completed act of putting wood on the fire.

"Dave!" she cried. "Put that lid down. Look at the smoke." A blue cloud was curling under the rafters. "Yes," he said, with great composure. "It always does that in this country." She shot a quick glance at him. Was he making fun of her? No, plainly not; he was just making fun with her; he had a vein of humor. And a little before she had found his face drawn in sympathy for her father. Perhaps for her. . . . He was not all on the surface.

He completed his operation at the stove and returned the lid to its place with no lack of deliberation. He was evidently waiting for her to speak again, but she worked on in silence.

New York.—That within three years, with the interest and co-operation in aviation which prevailed during the war, it will have become the custom to travel to Europe by airship and not at all uncommon to go over in the morning and return in the afternoon, was forecasted by Lieut.-Commander Albert C. Read, of the NC-4, at a dinner given in honor of him, Commander John T. Towers of the NC-3, Lieutenant-Commander N. L. Bellinger of the NC-1, and their crews, by the American Flying Club at the Hotel Commodore.

Commander Read told of the enthusiasm for flying which he found in England and France, and expressed his astonishment to find such a lack of general feeling toward aviation on his return to the United States.

Essen, Germany.—Krupp's works have had issued a statement to their workers, drawing attention to the fact that by their strikes and the consequent unrest in Germany important orders have been lost. A case has been cited of a contract with a great Dutch concern, which was lost and went to England, despite the much lower price quoted by Germany, because the Dutch mistrusted the ability of Krupp's to carry out the contract. Similarly, steel deliveries for the Norwegian state railway were given to an American firm, this also at a far higher price.

Huge Vote For Building Ships

Thousands of Dollars Voted for Public Works All Over the Dominion

Ottawa.—In the House of Commons, the Minister of Finance, Sir Thomas White, tabled supplementary estimates totalling $36,723,120, which will be voted by Parliament before prorogation. The chief item is one of $10,000,000 for the construction of vessels in accordance with the government's shipping program. Many thousands of dollars are voted for public works all over the Dominion, and also for harbor and river improvements, including $500,000 for a new dry dock at Esquimaux, British Columbia, and harbor improvements at Port Arthur and Fort William, Ontario, as well as at Toronto, Quebec, and St. John, New Brunswick. Of the amount to be voted $23,494,256 is chargeable to current revenues, and the remainder to capital account.

Hurrah! How's This

Cincinnati authority says corns
dry up and lift out with fingers.

Hospital records show that every time you cut a corn you invite lockjaw or blood poison, which is needless, says a Cincinnati authority, who tells you that a quarter ounce of a drug called freezone can be obtained at little cost from the drug store, but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

You simply apply a few drops of freezone on a tender, aching corn and soreness is instantly relieved. Shortly the entire corn can be lifted out, root and all, without pain.

This drug is sticky, but dries at once and is claimed to just shrivel up any corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin.

If your wife wears high heels she will be glad to know of this.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 23, 1919.

Speak as you mean, do as you profess, perform what you promise, and boost Didsbury Veterans' Day, Friday, August 1st.

The editor of this family journal has been "gently" criticised for his stand at a recent meeting of the school ratepayers to discuss the advisability of going into the expenditure of from $13,000 to $15,000 to build a High School, and he has a suspicion that a great many of these critics think that he is opposing this very necessary branch of education. This is entirely wrong. Our stand on this question is that we should wait a little while longer until the present financial situation of the town clears up a little before we make any move to increase our indebtedness, and in the meantime make every effort to provide temporary quarters for the increase in school facilities.

Here is the situation as it exists at present. The C. and E. Land Co., the largest taxpayer in the town, have not paid their 1917 and 1918 taxes yet, and it is a question whether this year's taxes will be paid by them in spite of what the Mayor and his associates have tried to do up to the present to collect them. The School Board has been paid a good deal more than their complete levy for last year by the town and financing this year's demands is becoming harder. It looks as though the town will either have to enter suit for collection or take over this land under tax enforcement proceedings and no matter which step is taken the fact remains that until this matter is straightened out the town resident taxpayer will have to stand a heavy increase in taxes next year to pay up its current indebtedness caused by the non-payment of these taxes. Again the credit arrangements at the bank have had to be altered because of these conditions. Previous to this year the School Board representing the whole school district had their separate credit account at the Bank for which they were responsible and the town had theirs—two separate accounts. This year the bank has only given credit to the town for the whole amount needed for both Boards consequently town property (not the School district) becomes liable for the full amount required.

Of course it is understood that any temporary arrangements made will have to be financed on current expenditures and it may be heavy, but in another year or two there may be such a difference in the cost of putting up this building, and the financial situation may be changed so much that it will have paid us to wait or to finance in this way. In fact the question that will have to be decided by the ratepayers is whether they want the High School closed up for a year or two because the powers that be say that temporary arrangements cannot be carried out or whether the town shall put on more debenture debt before we know what the outcome of the present situation is to be. It's a square cut issue and the PIONEER regrets having to put the matter so bluntly, especially in school affairs. Its columns are open for any reasonable discussion carried on in a friendly way by anyone interested.

Alberta's Industrial Congress

It is now definitely announced that Dr. Allen of the University of Alberta, one of the foremost scientific men of that institution, will make the investigation of the iron occurrences of the province of Alberta for the industrial branch of the Provincial Government in place of Dr. Gwillim of Queen's University, Dr. Gwillim having made an appointment for work with the British Columbia Government before receiving word of the assignment for the Alberta Government.

The decision to substitute Dr. Gwillim with Dr. Allen was made at the meeting of the advisory board of the Provincial Industrial branch on Friday last, it was explained by Mayor M. A. Brown, who returned through Calgary on his way to Medicine Hat. It was made as the result of the recommendation of Dr. W. A. R. Kerr Dean of the Alberta Institution and member of the executive of the Alberta Industrial Development Association.

The details of the assignment of Dr. Allen to the work of investigating the iron ore deposits of Alberta will be given out by the Hon. A. G. McKay, Minister in charge of the Industrial branch, but it is certain that the assignment will include at least a general survey of the iron ore deposits lying across the Great Divide and in British Columbia, for such deposits are known to exist near the Alberta border line.

The programme for the forthcoming Industrial Congress, dates August 11th to 16th, has not yet been completed, but it will in all probability include an address by Dr. Allen should the scientist complete his word of investigation before that affair. Other scientific men whom it is definitely announced will address the congress are Dr. F. McLaurin of the University of Saskatchewan, Dr. McCallum and Dr. Keele. Dr. McCallum is head of the "research" bureau of the Ottawa Government and will speak on the general phase of this branch of industry. Dr. Keele will speak on the clays of the province, having also received an assignment by the Minister of industry within this province to make a survey of these deposits in Alberta.

The scientific section of the programme for the congress is quite an elaborate one, but it will only be interspersed with addresses of a more general nature by industrial and commercial leaders of international fame.

Peace Day In Canada

Concluding an address before the Canadian Club at Vancouver at a luncheon given in his honor, Lt.-Col. Purney, Dominion President of the Great War Veterans of Canada, said: "Overseas we used frequently to hear that song 'There's a long, long trail winding into the land of my dreams.' The G.W.V.A. are determined that this Dominion of ours shall be the land of our dreams, the land we have hoped for, the land we are prepared to live and strive for. We realize that it is no easy road we have to travel, that will bring us to our goal. Through iron sacrifice of body, will and soul alone can we reach it—there is but one road."

These noble and inspiring words are just what was to be expected from the leader of that brave and gallant body of men who fought for and saved Canada when everything that our people hold dear was threatened and in danger of being lost to us. Thousands of their comrades gave their lives for the great dream of a finer, better Canada in the future; other thousands will go through life maimed and carrying wounds; and all made sacrifices and suffered to a degree that no one except those who went through the awful inferno of the war can understand. These men are determined that their losses, sufferings and sacrifices shall not have been made in vain.

Canada's returned soldiers are the nation's greatest asset and for many years to come their influence will be one of the determining factors in shaping national policy and establishing our national ideals. It is well that those ideals should be high and altogether worthy.

But what of those other thousands of Canadians who did not experience the comradeship of the trenches, nor place their bodies in the path of a ruthless and arrogant foe? They, too, must be animated by the same grim determination to make Canada the land of their brightest, fondest dreams—a land of hope and glory, where all men are free and equal and where peace and prosperity reign.

How can Canada be elevated to such a proud and happy position? Only by the loyal service and patriotic self-sacrifice of the Canadian people. Nature has endowed our Dominion with riches almost beyond the dreams of avarice. Few countries in the world have been so richly blessed, and it only remains for the Canadian people to wisely administer and develop the wonderful resources nature has provided to make this Dominion a peer among the nations.

To make our dreams come true there must be, first of all, a greater unity in thought and purpose among the people of Canada than has heretofore existed. There must be less of race discord and religious bigotry. We must learn and appreciate the fact that all men are brothers, and that whatever may have been our antecedents, our mother tongue or fatherland, here in Canada we are Canadians, subjects of the world's greatest empire, joint heirs to one of nature's greatest storehouses of happiness and wealth.

There must be less of looking askance at fellow citizens because by the accident of birth they first saw the light in some far-off portion of the world, or because by that same accident they were brought up to worship God through different forms. There must be less of suspicion and more of sympathy; less of antagonism and more of co-operation.

In the second place, there must be determination and a united effort on the part of all to assure to the boys and girls of Canada—the hope of Canada—the best possible education regardless of their present condition and place in life. The governments of our three prairie provinces are all striving to raise the standard of education, and are making special efforts in behalf of the children of our non-English speaking settlers. But while governments can do much by law and administration, their efforts will be only partially successful unless there is hearty co-operation on the part of all the people.

Again, public spirited men and women everywhere throughout this broad land should lend their assistance and give every encouragement to all movements designed to develop the right kind of a community spirit, to remove causes of friction and estrangement, to make newcomers welcome—in a word, to make one and all feel that they are members of the great Canadian family, and that, while they have rights and privileges to enjoy and which will be respected, they have also duties to perform and responsibilities to discharge to their adopted country and fellow citizen.

Saturday, July 19, has been set apart by His Majesty the King as a day of general empire rejoicing for the victorious peace which under God has been vouchsafed to the empire and its allies in the great war. Every Canadian citizen should join heartily with the Great War Veterans on that day in their patriotic determination to make Canada the land of their dreams, and should consecrate themselves to the task unmindful of the sacrifices and the hard service which may be involved. Peace Day in Canada should be a day not alone of reconstruction, but of regeneration.

WEAK MOTHERS REGAIN HEALTH

Through the New Blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Actually Make

No mother should allow nervous weakness to get the upper hand of her. If she does, worry will mar her work in the home and torment her in body and mind. Day after day spent amid the same surroundings is enough to cause fretfulness and depression. But there are other causes, as every mother knows, that tend to make her nerves run down. A change would benefit her jaded system, and rest might improve her blood so as to give the nerves a better tone. But rest and change are often impossible, and it is then that all worn-out women should take a short treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which make new blood, rich with the elements on which the nerves thrive. In this way these pills restore regular health, increased energy, new ambition and steady nerve. There is a lesson for other women in the case of Mrs. Harry T. Snider, Wilton, Ont., who says: "Five years ago my twin babies were born, and I was left very weak and very miserable, hardly fit to do anything. The doctor gave me medicine, but it did not help me. Then I tried another doctor, but with no better results. One day I went home to my mother, telling her how miserable I felt, and that the doctor's medicine had not done me any good. Mother asked me why I did not try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and as I was glad to try anything that might help me, I got three boxes when I went back home. By the time these were used there was no doubt they were helping me, and I got three more boxes. But I did not need them all, for by the time the fifth box was used, I was entirely cured, and never felt better in my life. Now when I hear people talk about feeling weak or miserable I always recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and tell what they did for me, and in similar cases I shall continue to recommend them."

At the first sign that the blood is out of order, take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and note the speedy improvement they make in the appetite, health and spirits. You can get these pills through any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Hun Call Treaty "Scrap Of Paper"

Extortionate Pressure Renders Signature Worthless, Says the Vorwaerts

Berlin.—The Berlin Vorwaerts, majority Socialist organ, described the peace treaty as "a scrap of paper."

"Extortionate pressure renders signature of the peace treaty worthless," said the Vorwaerts. "We must never forget it is only a scrap of paper. Treaties based on violence can keep their validity only so long as force exists. Do not lose hope. The resurrection day comes."

The Prussian Kreuz Zeitung, in an editorial headed "Fini, Germania," declared that "it is our duty not to permit the Prussian spirit to be crushed."

Irrigation In Alberta

Farmers Determined to Secure Surveys Without Delay

Macleod, Alberta.—A project to secure irrigation for the district lying between the Waterton and Belly rivers, with its southern extremity 12 miles due west of Cardston, is under consideration. The proposal is to take the water from Belly river to the southwest tip of the Blood Reserve, and by carrying it north parts of four townships can be watered, some 30,000 acres in all, it is thought. No surveys have yet been made. When farmers interested held a conference with Commissioner Peters of the irrigation branch, they were told he had no appropriation for the work. They inquired as to the cost, and it is possible that if the government does not take up this work the farmers themselves will engage an engineer to make the necessary surveys. Not only are the farmers determined to secure surveys without delay, but they have signed the necessary petitions for the formation of the district into an irrigation district under the Alberta Irrigation District Act, and these petitions have been laid before the government. If the surveys are completed this year, the district may next spring be in a position to proceed with the awarding of the contracts for the ditches. Much of the land to be served by this new project is owned by the Mormon church.

Sawing Wood With One Arm

For some months now no dispatch on the life of the former German emperor at Amerongen, Holland, has omitted to say something about his favorite exercise, which is said to be sawing logs of wood. The faithful correspondent who sends out these stories, or the loyal secretary who gives them to him, evidently is not sufficiently familiar with manual labor to know that sawing logs is an occupation which requires the use of two arms. The retired emperor, unfortunately, has but one. ## THINK A MINUTE

WHAT is your doctor's first question? Why does he suspect constipation?

Because 90% of his patients are suffering from ailments caused directly or indirectly by the action of poisons formed in a sluggish intestinal tract.

These body poisons are absorbed by the blood and carried all over the body until the weakest organ, unable to withstand the poisonous contact, becomes infected and refuses to act properly. Unfortunately it is usually not until then that the doctor is consulted and asked to treat the diseased organ.

The surest way of purifying the blood and preventing the formation of these destructive body poisons is to prevent stagnation of food waste in the intestinal tract—to prevent constipation.

Constipation is not a matter to be taken lightly or neglected. Nor is it either sufficient or safe to take castor oil, pills, salts, mineral waters, etc., in order to "force" bowel action. Such action does not cure constipation, it makes constipation a habit.

Nujol is entirely different from drugs as it does not force or irritate the bowels. Nujol prevents stagnation by softening the food waste and encouraging the intestinal muscles to act naturally, thus removing the cause of constipation and self-poisoning. It is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take.

Nujol helps Nature establish easy, thorough bowel evacuation at regular intervals—the healthiest habit in the world. Get a bottle from your druggist today.

Warning: Nujol is sold in sealed bottles bearing the Nujol Trade Mark. All druggists insist on Nujol. You may suffer from substitutes.

Ministerial and Christian Workers' Convention.

July the 17th to the 20th was a period of real interest at the Church of the Evangelical Association in Didsbury, where overflowing sessions were held.

Two of the former ministers of the congregation were present and gave messages that called to action. Rev. J. D. Fenner, of Regina, Sask., made a strong appeal to untiring effort in the temperance work and Rev. C. S. Finkbeiner, of Hanna, ably presented the claims of God upon human life. Others who dealt with timely subjects were Rev. J. S. Burn, of Leader, Sask., on "Christian Stewardship, Talents and Means." Rev. W. B. Dengis, of Warner, on "The New Day and New Call," challenged the believers' nobility.

Rev. A. S. Caughell, of Pennant, Sask., showed the need of more thorough Sunday School work. Rev. K. Gretzinger, Medicine Hat, made a strong appeal for missions. Rev. J. Golding, Orion, Alta., and Rev. G. A. Bearcroft, Kenaston, Sask., interestedly addressed the children. A. Clemens made his appeal for a very vital part of the church's work, namely: soul saving. Rev. T. H. Wagner, Regina, was in charge as chairman, and in his opening sermon set the note for the convention in "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature."

The high water mark was reached in Bishop S. Speng's sermons and addresses. On Saturday, the day of peace celebration, he very clearly showed how God wrought in war to clear the way of many things that stood in the way of the advancement of his cause. He followed the movement of war events from the Mohammedan world and sacred Palestine through the various countries until he came to the crux of all in the land of the enemy—Germany, the severely autocratic and egotistical nation, and expressed the hope of better things in the fear of God.

The Bishop's sermons on the Word of God and the Christ of God were masterpieces in laying bare falsities and making clear that these were the cornerstone and the keystone of the world and the universe. The claim of the Cross of Christ in Redemption has not been marred but stands out in the glory of the eternal throne of the eternal heavens.

Westerdale Methodist Church

Special Announcement

On Sunday, July 27th, services sacred to the memory of the soldier dead are to be held at the following appointments: Westerdale, 11 a.m.; Hainstock, 2 p.m.; Berrydale, 4 p.m. These services will be conducted by the pastor assisted by the Rev. A. A. Lytle, of Innisfail, who will deliver the addresses.

A special service to welcome returned men will be held at Westerdale in the evening, at 8.30.

On Monday, the 28th, at 8 p.m., a reception in the form of a garden party will be given at the parsonage, at Westerdale. A programme of music and, as a special feature, humorous character sketches from Dickens, by Rev. Suter, of Red Deer East, will be given. The programme will be followed by light refreshments.

This reception is not prepared for financial reasons. It is absolutely free. It is the sincere hope of the committee in charge that the people will rally in large numbers to welcome the men home. All returned men specially welcomed.

Semi-Monthly Crop Report

A survey of crops on June 30th showed that the important wheat lands of Southern Alberta were in a precarious situation. This unfavourable condition in the south country has since been confirmed and intensified.

In the south the situation briefly is this: There was sufficient moisture from snow or spring rains to germinate the grain and the crops came up satisfactorily. There was not sufficient moisture below to constitute a reservoir for the steady supply of moisture to crops for subsequent growth and there has not been sufficient rain since.

There have been showers over many parts of the south since but in no cases have these showers been heavy enough to saturate down even to the little moisture that there was below and so induce any water movement into the crops. The rains that have occurred over the whole of this area have been showers that have wet the surface soil but only to a depth of about an inch. They have quickly evaporated without becoming effective to the furthering of crop growth, as it needs to go at least four or five inches down. The crops that had reached some height and were standing still at the end of the month have since gone back. High winds have persisted throughout practically all of Southern Alberta and the grain that is headed out is bleached at the top of the head, is empty at the bottom of the head and only has a few grains in the middle.

There are not a great many localities that will be able to even supply their own seed in the country tributary to the Crow's Nest railway and on the Aldersyde line. Crops that grew fairly well at points between Lethbridge and Medicine Hat and on the Suffield branch, likewise on the main line of the C. P. R. have been subject to steady reduction for the past three weeks.

On the Noble farm there is a large area of rye. This crop has withstood the draught better than wheat and oats.

The opposite end of the province, namely, the Peace River country, continues to have bountiful rains and high temperatures. The crop is making good progress and it is generally heavy. In a few localities there is almost too much moisture. While the conditions in the Peace River country are good the total area is not of importance compared with Central or Southern Alberta.

Central Alberta is in about the same situation as it was at the time of the last report. The eastern side continues dry and all of the country needs rain, but considering the absence of general rains the crops in most parts of Central Alberta are standing up pretty well. They have made some growth since last report and there is no new limiting factor to the success of the crop but it will scarcely be a full crop.

Wheat in Central Alberta that has been sown on breaking or summer fallow will be considerably over half a crop. On spring plowing it will not be so good. The oat crop is the most important crop of Central Alberta. The early oats are rather short and can not be a real good crop. The oats that have been sown late have rather better prospects. They are showing strong and have plenty of time for a good crop yet if we have a reasonable amount of rain. Six weeks of favorable weather would make things fairly satisfactory in Central Alberta.

The hay crop is quite light as to both native and tame hay and there will be practically no surplus in any part of the province for the southern stockmen. Stock in Central Alberta is looking well. The characteristic trouble with the central district is that it has not had any heavy rains. There have been a number of small showers over most parts of this division. They have benefitted the crops a little and have kept the weather cooler and high winds have ceased, but for even an ordinary harvest good rains are necessary.

Usona P.O. (via Ponoka),
Alberta,
July 13, 1919.

To the Editor,

Pioneer, Didsbury.
Dear Sir:

We got out of Didsbury just in time. We are 700 feet lower altitude here. We go to Ponoka about every ten days but they have not run us in to the big brick building yet south-east of town. Our crops up here look pretty good, better than around Ponoka, as we have had many showers and the cutworms though bad around town have not bothered us. Timothy hay will not amount to very much as the sod was too dry from last year, but we have had rain enough for the grain, low land hay and gardens. We have plenty of range and wood. Just five miles west we attended a celebration on the 1st of July. They had a fine bunch of outlaw horses and men who could ride them; team races, remount, novelty and ladies' races with good riders and good horses in them all. The people here are very friendly. We had a fine trip coming up and fine weather. Tell Mr. Aults I should like him to answer my letter right away. With kindest regards to yourself and family.

I am,
Yours truly,
Mrs. C. S. Chapin.

Does a Farmer Need a Truck?

THE farmer with a Ford Truck practically lives next door to the market. He has a choice of markets. He becomes more independent.

He can market his goods when and where he pleases. He sells his crop to the very best advantage.

And his hauling costs him less—in labor and money.

It is not only cheaper to haul with a Ford Truck than with a team and wagon, it is quicker, it is easier work.

Consider the time and labor the farmer can save with a Ford Truck. With a team the trip to town takes the better part of a day.

A Ford Truck makes the same trip in two or three hours.

When labor is so scarce, what farmer can afford to waste day after day of his valuable time?

Ford Trucks Complete with Body and Enclosed Cab

Ford One-Ton Trucks are now supplied, if desired, with standard truck bodies in two types, the Stake Body and the Express Body.

In both standard bodies the cabs may be supplied with or without doors as desired.

See these complete Ford Trucks. Consider the matter from every angle; the cost of feeding horses against the cost of running a Ford Truck; the time you lose on the road; the money you lose by being so far from the best markets. There is only one conclusion you can come to. You will have a Ford Truck.

A Visible Gasoline Pump

One great invention to-day for use of garage men is the visible gasoline pump. The salient features of this pump are it is absolutely reliable, it eliminates hand-pumping, it holds no gasoline above ground, it has no parts to adjust or get out of order, it pumps no air, holds no gasoline in the hose, and is self-measuring.

The great advantage of the visible pump is that all doubt as to measure is instantly dispelled. The liquid is measured in full sight of the purchaser and he has the satisfaction of knowing that he gets all he pays for. In other words you get what you see and see what you get. The pump is approved by the Bureau of Weights and Measures at Ottawa and by the Fire Underwriters.

One of our speed demons got a rude jolt in his recollection department recently. Tearing down the Edmonton trail at a thirty-mile clip he was suddenly confronted with the option of running down a fellow o-looping the loop. He chose the former. When the guy scrambled out of the roadside thistles, badly wrecked but still very lively, he screamed "Whad d'ya mean, runnin' a feller down like that?" Greatly relieved that the destruction was no greater, our friend began forthwith to make excuse. "It was your own fault; you got in the road. I never ran anyone down before, and I've been driving a car for ten years." "An' let me tell you," yelled the mad man, "you's the first fool as ever driv over me, an' I've been walkin' for sixty years."—Innisfail Province.

Germans Ratify Treaty • With Very Bad Grace

Weimar.—In the debate which preceded the vote of the national assembly ratifying the peace treaty, some strong sentiments against the terms were expressed, and 99 deputies abstained from voting on the resolution to ratify the treaty. Most of the ministers were present at the meeting of the assembly, and there was a full attendance of deputies. Dr. Hermann Mueller, the foreign minister, in introducing the government bills, explained that hastening of the ratification order would bring about the lifting of the blockade.

"We are about to enter upon a 40 years' march through dirt," he said. "I can find no other term for the path of suffering fulfillment of the treaty prescribed for us."

Dr. Peter Spahn, leader of the Catholic centre party, said:

"We agree to the treaty under hard compulsion, to save ourselves from anarchy and to preserve the fatherland from internal ruin."

Herr Kreizing, Socialist; Professor Schucking, Democrat; Dr. Traub, national party, and Herr Kahl, people's party, all spoke violently protesting the injustice of the treaty, the impossibility of its fulfillment, and declaring that the day of Germany's liberation would come.

These speeches were greeted with such turbulent applause and hand-clapping that the president of the assembly, Herr Fehrenbach, called attention to the fact that hand-clapping was against the rules, with similar speeches by other members and similar applause.

The national party introduced an amendment in favor of ratifying the treaty with the reserve that the sanction of the international law experts of repute be first obtained concerning articles 227 to 230, and that a court be created to investigate the responsibility for the war.

In the course of the debate President Fehrenbach protested against Alsace-Lorraine being torn from Germany. He said that the treaty of 1871 simply made good what had been taken from Germany 150 years before. He hoped that the people of Alsace-Lorraine would preserve their German character, customs, etc.

British Army Won The War

Emphatic Statement By Sir Douglas Haig on British Army Achievements

London.—Field Marshal Haig, receiving the freedom of Newcastle, deprecated the tendency to minimize the British army's achievements in the war.

"It is right to speak of our allies," he declared, "but it was the British army that won the war; it was Britain that bore the brunt of the fighting in the last two years. I hope everyone will realize the fact and stick by the fellows who fought and suffered and their dependents."

Labor Unrest In Italy

Repression of Disorders By Military Methods Resented By Labor Leaders

Rome.—The chamber of labor has proclaimed a general strike as from midnight Tuesday as a sign of protest against the police and military measures adopted by the government to prevent further disorders. The chamber of labor maintains that these measures were adopted to prevent the lowering of the price of necessities, as demanded by the people.

The strike was not quite general, because only the Popolo Romano published the decision of the chamber of labor to call a strike.

The food shops were crammed with people buying provisions in fear of being caught with scanty supplies.

Some Sidelights on Bolshevism

New York.—The arrest of President Wilson and J. D. Rockefeller, the opening of all jails and the formation of soviet organizations throughout the country to take over the government were advocated in the anarchistic bulletin, according to Archibald Stevenson, who produced a copy of the bulletin at the hearing of the Lusk investigating commission.

Hidden Bravery To Be Rewarded

Recommendations for Awards Must Be Sent to Ottawa By End of August

Ottawa.—Officers and soldiers of the Canadian Expeditionary Force who displayed gallantry while escaping or attempting to escape from the enemy, or who rendered exceptional services whilst prisoners of war or interned, are eligible for a reward.

An order of the Militia Department just issued states that recommendations for such reward may now be submitted. The facts supporting each recommendation must be substantiated by statements of evidence from at least two witnesses who have first-hand knowledge of the case, and should reach militia headquarters before August 31. Officers and soldiers who are still serving should submit their claims through the usual official channels. The claims of those who have been demobilized should be presented through the officer commanding the military district in which they live.

Fall Harvesting Starts In Ontario

Crops on the Whole Are Very Poor This Year

Toronto.—Fall wheat harvesting has already commenced in a few counties, according to the Ontario crop report, issued by the department of agriculture.

Owing to the length of straw, some of the grain has been knocked down. In some sections, fears were that grain was ripening too fast, but the yield will be higher.

Winter rye is ready for the binder. Crops on the whole are very poor. Some sections report practically a failure. The fields are uneven, and on account of the dry weather, grain is heading out at a foot and less in height.

Many Jews Killed

Ukrainian Anti-Bolshevist Commander Shows Cruelty

London.—Many Jews have lost their lives in the course of the operations between the Russian soviet forces and those of General Gregorieff, commander of the Ukrainian anti-Bolshevist army, which has been fighting its way northward from the Black Sea. Cecil Harmsworth, under-secretary for foreign affairs, said in the house of commons in replying to a question, General Gregorieff, the under-secretary said, was stated to be strongly anti-Jewish in his sympathies.

Has No Plans for His Future

Toronto.—Sir Thomas White, who is at his home in Toronto for a few days, stated that reports which have appeared and are appearing in the press, to the effect that he had been offered and accepted an executive position with some railway corporation or bank, or life insurance company, were entirely without foundation and were unfair to the men occupying the positions which have been mentioned. The minister stated that he had made no financial plans whatever for the future.

$35,000,000 for Six Airships

London.—Six rigid airships of an improved type, representing successive stages of development, are under construction for the British navy, it was disclosed in the House of Commons by Walter Hume Long, First Lord of the Admiralty. These airships, he stated, would cost £7,000,000.

Hun Mob Releases Prisoners

Berlin.—A mob attacked the castle and the detention prison at Hanover and released all the prisoners in the buildings. The guards, it is said, surrendered their arms without resistance. Some fighting occurred between the crowds and government soldiers.

Britain Has Rivals Amongst Colonies

Preference Within the Empire Only Against Foreigners

London.—In the house of commons R. P. Houston, member for the West Fench division of Liverpool, asked why the South African government had recently placed in the United States orders for 44,000 tons of rails, 1,000 cars and 250 trucks, and in the U.S. and Canada orders for 70 large locomotives instead of in Great Britain, in view of the necessity of employment of the people here and of maintaining Britain's export trade.

Ho. L. C. S. Amery, under-secretary for the colonies, said some of these orders had been placed before the armistice had been signed, when it was impossible for Great Britain to supply railway material. British offers respecting the price and date of delivery of the 70 locomotives had been so unfavorable that South Africa had been obliged to go further afield. He was glad to say 40 of them had been ordered in Canada.

Mr. Amery continued that in view of Mr. Houston's question, which seemed doubtless to unintentionally imply that it was undesirable that the South African government should purchase material from Canada rather than Great Britain, he recalled that a policy on which the government of the empire were agreed was that of preference in contracts for produce and manufactures of the empire, and not merely of the United Kingdom.

Great Britain could not expect preference from other empire governments, except as against foreign countries. Mr. Amery said he understood the South African government actually had done its very best to place orders in Great Britain and had negotiated at length with manufacturers.

Reds Prepare To Evacuate Petrograd

Allied Powers Will See Kolchak Movement Carried Through

Washington.—Definite information that the Bolshevik authorities are planning to evacuate Petrograd has been received in official circles here. Decision to quit the capital was said to have been violently opposed by some elements of the government.

Paris.—Approval of a plan for a concerted attack upon Petrograd by Finnish forces and the troops of the Kolchak government at Onisk, was given by the council of five.

A joint note has been sent the military attaches of Great Britain, France, United States and Italy at Helsinki, instructing them to support the Finnish government, if it decided to accede to the request of Admiral Kolchak to assist him in the campaign.

There is no indication that the allied and associated powers propose to go further at the time in helping Kolchak's plan, but their action in supporting the Finns is regarded as equivalent to assurances that they will see the Kolchak movement carried through.

Helsinki.—It is reported that all foreign embassies, legations and consulates in Petrograd have been occupied by Bolshevik forces. The archives have been seized, it is said, and those in charge have been arrested and handed over to an extraordinary committee dealing with charges of espionage against the soviet government.

"Black Watch"—The Best Black Plug Chewing Tobacco on the Market

Troops Overseas Now Total 32,000

London.—With the sailing of the Carmania July 5, with 2,954 troops, and the sailing of the Tunisian on the same day with 268 troops, 255,413 Canadians have been repatriated since the date of the armistice.

The number of Canadians overseas, both in the British Isles and France, is now approximately 32,000. This, of course, includes hospital staffs.

Urge Peace Quickly

Rome.—Premier Nitti, in a speech before parliament, urged that the peace negotiations be concluded, and that friendly relations with the allies, especially France, be maintained.

Facing Terrible Cost Through High Taxation

Failed To Get Knighthood

Charles Hannan Asserts He Got No Reward for Devising the Smoke Box Screen Defence

London.—Charles Hannan, the author, has issued the text of curious correspondence between himself and the government regarding his claim to be an inventor of smoke boxes against submarine attack.

Mr. Hannan claims his invention was adopted, but his stipulation that the reward should be a "good old-fashioned knighthood and pension equivalent," was ignored.

In February he was informed "it was not found possible to include your name in the present honors list, but who the next one is prepared you shall again receive consideration."

However, no knighthood was forthcoming, and Mr. Hannan now presents the correspondence to the public.

Many Labor Candidates

Labor Party In Winnipeg Will Try for Victory at the Polls

Winnipeg.—At a largely attended meeting of the Labor party, over which S. J. Farmer presided, it was decided to nominate candidates for every seat in Winnipeg and the territory immediately surrounding the city for the Dominion parliament and the provincial legislature, also to nominate candidates for the mayoralty and every seat on the city council and on the public school board.

A convention is being arranged for August.

Minimum Wage for Office Help

Winnipeg.—The work of the Manitoba minimum wage board is being brought to a close so far as the fixing of minimum wages is concerned, with the announcement of a proposed minimum wage of $12.50 per week to women in offices, and $12 to female help in theatres.

It has covered approximately 6,000 women in industry in Winnipeg, and has affected about forty industries. Dr. W. J. McMillan, chairman, sent in his resignation to the government, and it has been accepted.

Berlin.—Germany is to quickly return to a peace time financial system, said Mathias Erzberger, vice-chancellor and minister of finance, speaking at Weimar before the German national assembly. Among other things, the payment of grants to men who are unemployed will be reduced, it was indicated during his address.

"The empire's needs must be divided henceforth between home needs and indemnities," he said.

"The burdens of taxation will reach an absolutely terrible height. A floating debt of 72,000,000,000 marks is a constant danger, and the removal of this debt is one of our most urgent tasks. There are two ways in which to do it—either its conversion into a funded loan, or its extinction by big levies and a heavy property tax. I do not indulge the hope that these two ways will immediately yield the entire liquid amount of 72,000,000,000 marks. It is the duty of conquered people not only to bow to a state of compulsion, but to achieve an inward conviction as to the necessity of giving up all riches and all that is superfluous.

"Changes in the system of taxation will be speedily submitted to the national assembly, and this reform will represent the completion of the whole work.

"The world has denied us international justice. All the more passionately and energetically, however, will we work for the home land again, and flourishing in justice, concentrate our care and endeavor upon the poor, but just German.

"One of the first requirements relative to the restoration of the life of labor is the establishment of orderly finances. I will have nothing to do with suggestions for the annulment of war loans and a declaration of general bankruptcy. My highest aim is to administer justice in the entire taxation system. The income from capital must be taxed much more heavily than the income from work. An inheritance tax and a heavy tax levy on property will be the initial steps that will be taken. The empire's income must be increased nine hundred per cent., and that of individual states and communes one hundred per cent. Such enormous changes require fresh measures."

Your New Barn Can't be Planned to Carefully

How many times have you talked with other farmers about their equipment and heard them say something to this effect:

"Well, when I build another barn, it will be built so and so or it will have this or that arranged differently."

They probably discovered their mistakes very soon after the barn was up.

If they had had a PLAN of the barn made in the first place, they probably would have seen these mistakes and not made them.

You don't want any regrets in your new barn, the one you need his year—come to our office and get a plan of it.

It's time to get the barn started, you better come now.

AROUND THE TOWN

Endeavor to excel: much may be accomplished by perseverance—so boost Didsbury Veteran's Day, Friday, August 1st.

Mr. James A. Rennie, of Chesley, Ont., arrived on Saturday, on a visit to his brother, Mr. C. F. Rennie.

Corporal H. McKnight returned home on Friday last. He went to France with the 50th Battalion. Not only is he bearing the scars of battles but he is also suffering from the effects of a bad dose of mustard gas.

That it pays to advertise has again been illustrated by results. Within 24 hours of the PIONEER being published containing a "lost" advertisement, a boy's coat that was advertised for was brought into the office. Publicity in the press is good for business as well as for lost and found articles.

Mr. E. B. Langdon, President of the G. W. V. A. Local at Olds, was a visitor in Didsbury on Tuesday. He is inspector for the Soldier Settlement Board, and was on his way to inspect the Shannon section at Elkton. Applicants are Alford and Robert White, of Cereal.

The following pupils were successful in the recent music examination of the Associated Board of the R.A.M. and R.C.M.—Arnold Liesemer (Higher Division); Dorothy Orde, Zetta Liesemer, Allene Schmelke, Edith Gertz (Elementary Division), Dolores Schmelke, Marie James, Walter Snyder, Mabel Shantz, Norman Bradley (Primary Division).

Shanon Bros. have installed their oil pump which is declared to be the best pump between Calgary and Red Deer. They have already started doing business with this pump and from appearances everything seems to be very satisfactory. They hope to be ready for general service in the new garage by Veteran's Day, August 1st.

The Sale of Stock, etc., at Mr. J. A. Gilbert's farm on Thursday, June 17th, was a decided success. Cows went near the $100 mark and heifers went exceedingly well. Although there was not a big crowd Mr. J. A. Paton, the auctioneer, had brisk bidding and everything fetched good prices, both auctioneer and seller expressing themselves as greatly satisfied with results.

Peace Day services were held in all the churches on Sunday, and thanks given to the Almighty that the nightmare through which the world has just passed had come to an end, and that we all might take the lessons that the world war taught us to heart and try to carry on so that future generations may not say that our lesson had been neglected and the world made again to suffer through our neglect.

Don't give up Boosting Didsbury Veterans' Day because you are dry, get a gargle, lots of machine oil in town, Veterans' Day, August 1st.

The Presbyterian Church was tastefully decorated with flowers and the flags of the allies on Sunday, when Peace Day Services were held. The large choir, with Mr. Farrington at the organ, rendered some very acceptable music, and Rev. D. Macgregor preached a splendid sermon covering the period during the war and looking to the future.

The story of the "Riders of the Purple Sage" as illustrated on the screen at the Opera House on Friday and Saturday last, was well worth the money and the time spent in viewing it. It is hoped that we shall continue to see movies in the future of the same educational nature as the pictures recently shown. We are particularly anxious to see the sequel to the aforesaid picture.

RURAL ONTARIO IS NOT DECAYING

Statistics Show That Farmers Are Producing More Than Ten Years Ago

Since the results of the Dominion Census have been published, many people have received the erroneous impression that rural Ontario is in a very decadent condition. An examination of a few facts taken from provincial reports prove, that the banner province of the Dominion is far from being in a state of decay.

Fewer Farmers but Greater Wealth.
Though smaller in numbers than in the year 1900, the farmers of Ontario are producing a more valuable output than ever before in the history of the province, and the assessed value of their lands was never as great as at the present time. The popular estimate places the number of farms in Ontario at 175,000, and the annual output from the fields of those farms is generally valued at $250,000,000. These figures hardly account for the entire agricultural worth of the province. In the first place, it is questionable if there are any more than 150,000 farms in Ontario. The past ten years have been a period of mergers in the farming world as well as in that of other industries, and the form of one hundred acres has rapidly passed out of sight. Fewer people hold more land than at the beginning of the century, and the farm of two hundred and three hundred acres has become the unit. Such is the condition at the present census taking, but there are signs even now that point to the resumption of the smaller areas before the next decade has passed. At the present moment, however, the number of real farms in this province would be more nearly 150,000 than 175,000, but their value is considerably greater than when the number did amount to 175,000.

The Stimulus to Production.
And the stimulus to all this improved agriculture with its increasing values, is the growing demand for food in Canada, as much in the Western Provinces as in the Ontario towns and cities. With the farmers in the great Western half of the Dominion producing to supply an export trade, it behooves the farmers of the other half to produce with a view to supplying the home market, and the statistics of the country's trade show that this is precisely what is being done.

Curiosity allures the wise; vanity the foolish; and pleasure both; therefore—boost Veterans' Day at Didsbury, August 1st.
